Stay safe near water

Whatever time of the year it is, always remember:

- ▶ Never swim after drinking alcohol.
- ▶ The water may be deeper or shallower than you think.
- ▶ Never go near water on your own, if you do get into difficulties there will be someone to call for help.

Looking out for others...

If you see someone in difficulty in the water, here's how you can help:

- ▶ Do not go into the water yourself.
- ▶ Stay calm, call for help and ring 999.
- ▶ Give your location or describe local landmarks.
- ▶ Try to reach out to them with a stick or belt, keeping low to the ground so you don't get pulled in.
- ▶ Find the nearest life ring and throw it to the person. If a life ring is not available, throw anything that could help them float.
- ▶ If someone goes under the water, mark on the water's edge the place they were last seen with something like a piece of clothing.
- ▶ Send someone to the nearest road entrance to flag down the emergency services when they arrive to direct them to the incident quicker.

Download the free mobile app what3words, so that emergency services can pinpoint your exact location.

Stop and think before you jump

BE WATER AWARE

Before you jump in a river, lake or any waters stop and think.

Hazards lie beneath the water and even if the sun is shining, the water will still be cold.

If you see someone in trouble in water, do not hesitate, call 999 immediately with clear details of your location.

Float to live

While the sun is shining, it might be tempting to cool down with a dip in local rivers or lakes. But think twice before you do.

There can be hidden dangers beneath the surface that could have deadly consequences. Deep water may feel warm on the surface, but just below it can be icy cold. This can cause panic and cold water shock. When the water is so cold it can take your breath away and make swimming much harder.

If you find yourself in difficulty in cold water, follow these steps:

- ▶ Try not to panic
- ▶ Float on your back
- ▶ Don't struggle. Your clothes will have air in them that will help you float easier.
- ▶ After 60-90 seconds, the cold water shock will pass and you will be able to breath more easily, so you can swim to safety.

Open Water Safety Advice

Around 85% of accidental drownings occur at open water sites. Many of these drownings occur due to a lack of knowledge and understanding of open water safety. The basic principles of open water safety, combined with knowledge and understanding of the hazards, can increase enjoyment of open water and significantly reduce the number of incidents that occur each year.

- ▶ Always look for warning and guidance signs
- ▶ Swim parallel with the shore, not away from it
- ▶ Avoid drifting in the currents
- ▶ Do not enter fast flowing water
- ▶ Be aware of underwater hazards
- ▶ Get out of the water as soon as you start to feel cold
- ▶ Never enter the water after consuming alcohol
- ▶ Only enter the water in areas with adequate supervision and rescue cover
- ▶ Always wear a buoyancy aid or lifejacket for activities on the water or at the water's edge
- ▶ Always take someone with you when you go into or near water
- ▶ If someone is in difficulty in the water, provide reassurance, shout for help and call the emergency services.
